By WILLIAM UNSTEAD

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The administration moved swiftly today to line up the liquor industry behind its food conservation program and to win the support of the American fisherman, butcher, restaurateur and housewife.

Representatives of the distillers are expected to agree at a conference this afternoon to a two-month shutdown. They may insist, however, that the government first ban shipments of grain to be used for distilling and brewing overseas.

An intensive educational campaign is being launched to overcome the late start of the "meatless Tuesday" program which began yesterday.

Their meat supplies had been ordered and menus printed before the program was announced last Sunday.

General Election In Britain May Develop Sooner Than Expected

By JAMES E. BROWN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Some political experts today interpreted Prime Minister Attlee's cabinet shakeup as an indication the Labor Party intends having a general election sooner than expected.

Last week Winston Churchill told his Conservative Party at its Brighton conference to be ready for an election "at any time this year, or next."

The Labor government which gained power two years ago will remain in office until 1950 unless it is defeated in the House of Commons or voluntarily agrees to a general election.

Few Alterations Made

Political informants pointed out that Attlee made surprisingly few alterations in the long-heralded cabinet reorganization, particularly as regards the senior ministerial posts.

However, he did make sweeping dismissals from the junior ministries facilitating the promotion of

The number of new homes being constructed in other wards follows:

"However, I think Denham's decision also was technically correct. It was one of those twilight situations that could be decided either way. I think it is a good thing Denham accepted the board's ruling. Otherwise, administration of the law would have been a mess."

Executives Club Hears Miss Sanli Tell About Turkey

Young Newspaper Woman Tells Of Turkey's Position In World's Scheme

Members of the New Castle executives club and their guests, at their first meeting of the fall and winter season, were delightedly entertained when they had the privilege of hearing Miss Ismet Sanli, attractive young Turkish woman, discuss Turkey's position in the present world scheme.

Miss Sanli, a newspaper woman, has represented Turkey at both the San Francisco and United Nations conferences, and just returned a week ago, after a visit to her homeland.

She was introduced by Mrs. James D. Crawford, who was presented by S. Glenn McCracken, president of the club.

As a prelude to her talk, she told about Turkey's history, from the time the Turks came out of Asia to Asia Minor as a nomadic tribe of people, seeking a fertile spot to locate, leading up to the formation of the Turkish Republic by Kemal Ataturk, who overthrew the Ottoman government in 1923, and instituted sweeping reforms.

Miss Sanli stated that the world needs a better understanding of all of its peoples, and has found during her travels that few people understand the Turks, or their foreign policy.

Following World War One, when Kemal Ataturk realized how much Turkey had lost through war, he and his associates in the new Republic decided that Turkey would follow a course of peace, but because of Russian pressure at the present time, is forced to maintain an army of a million men, keeping these men from producing the goods that Turkey so badly needs at the present time, as well as presenting a tax burden on the people.

Turkey, she stated, had come a long way in a short time under the present government, doing away with many old fads and customs which had shackled her people. The state and religion were separated to the benefit of those not of the Mohammedan faith; modern laws were adopted; and an emphasis was placed on education; polygamy was abolished, and the status of womanhood was elevated to an equal place with the men.

Russia, she stated, has always challenged Turkey because Russia wanted an unfettered outlet to the sea. Because Turkey refused to give in to Russian demands, she is classed as a war monger, just as the United States is at the present time.

She stated in conclusion that she felt that the sooner Russia was brought to a complete check in her unreasonable demands, the better it will be for the whole world.

GENERAL ELECTION IN BRITAIN MAY DEVELOP SOON

The stress on youth for the junior offices plus the other changes in cabinet posts gave these political experts the opinion that Attlee's present senior team is a sort of "caretaker government."

Veering To Right

Some British newspaper editorials declared that the cabinet changes indicate that the government is resuming its Leftist supporters and is veering to the right.

Others, like the London Daily Telegraph, thought that there was no fundamental change in the political outlook of the cabinet, saying:

"There was no reshuffle and no new cards were introduced into the old deck."

Attlee ousted 11 ministers and undersecretaries. The most important of these was Emanuel Shinwell, Leftist minister of fuel and power. Shinwell was demoted to the cabinet post of war secretary.

Taking over from Shinwell was Hugh Gaitskell, former parliamentary secretary to the fuel ministry.

George R. Strauss became minister of supply in place of John Wilmot, who was dropped from the government.

ADMINISTRATION MOVES TO MAKE FOOD SAVING WORK

the distillers would agree to the 60-day shutdown and comply with Mr. Truman's food conservation program "all along the line."

Somewhat Skeptical

It was emphasized, however, that the industry is somewhat skeptical of the presidential proposal and fears that the shutdown might be not for just 60 days, but for the duration of the emergency, six to nine months.

There also were reported that the industry will ask that no grain be shipped overseas for whiskey production.

Meanwhile, the American people were warned that they would have to continue the food conservation program until the middle of next summer to provide relief for hungry European nations.

The warning came from Secretary of Agriculture Anderson, who said that the results of the food-saving drive would not be known before January when he gets a wheat "disappearance" report.

Anderson held out hope, however, that it might be possible to discontinue meatless, eggless and poultryless days before next summer, possibly in January if enough grain has been saved by then.

Other Developments

Other developments on the food conservation campaign included:

1. Initial reports on the food-saving program showed that the nation only partly observed the country's first meatless Tuesday since World War I.
2. The brewing industry plans to meet in Chicago Friday to work out new proposals for saving grain in the production of beer.
3. Secretary of Interior Krug asked the fishing industry to provide increased supplies of fish and seafoods to the nation, particularly on the meatless and poultryless days.
4. Congressional demands for the 90 million pounds of dried and frozen eggs drew a sharp reply from Anderson that the eggs may be needed more at a late time.

SHOWDOWN ON KOREA IS SOUGHT

Beber of Yugoslavia in the closing stage of the general debate on Greece yesterday are viewed by western delegations as initial shots in the expected propaganda drive of the Soviet bloc.

Spectacle Of Defiance

The closing debate on Greece in the political committee was a spectacle of vituperation and defiance of the chair on the part of Beber, who drew the chairman's ire upon himself three times.

Britain's Hector McNeill tapped Beber with a final rebuke by requesting the floor to answer "the calculated abuse and intolerable excesses" hurled at the British government.

But for the sake of expediency, he acceded to the chairman's request and waived his right to speak.

The committee at 3 p. m. today plunges into the stormy part of its task with commencement of consideration clause by clause of the several resolutions confronting it.

Meyer Is Facing Charges Made By Former Cigaret Girl

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—(INS)—Police reinforcements were called to help put Johnny Meyer, press agent for plane maker Howard Hughes, under arrest in a night club early today on a charge of failing to support the illegitimate baby of a former cigarette girl.

Meyer, trailed to the Club El Morocco by Elvin Unterman, counsel for former model Patricia Miles, and Patrolman Ardoff in plain clothes, demanded, "where is your badge? Where are your credentials?" when Ardoff seized his arm.

Ardoff said that Meyer, who was with a table of friends, refused to budge when he produced a warrant in which Miss Miles accused him of being father of her nine-months-old son. She is suing for $100,000.

The club was in an uproar as attendants sent for additional police. Two patrolmen who arrived in a squad car said they had some difficulty getting past the doorman.

The earlier arrival of Miss Miles and her lawyer also caused a commotion.

Ardoff loudly "deputized" Unterman to help him when the portly Meyer indicated a reluctance to get up from the table without additional proof of the policeman's identity.

Meyer was hustled off to the East 51st Street station, then to city prison, where he was freed in $500 bail.

Meyer is being arraigned in special sessions court later today.

Meat Packing Price Probe Is Now Promised

DENVER, Oct. 8.—(INS)—A congressional sub-committee investigating living costs, promised in Denver today to study the meat packing industry, after hearing a comparison of prices from a labor representative.

U. S. Senate Arthur V. Watkins, (R) Utah, chairman of the western sub-committee, said the group would study further suggestions made by Robert O'zanne, director of education and research for the Colorado State Federation of Labor, AFL.

O'zanne told the committee yesterday that farmers are receiving 77 per cent more for cattle than they did in June 1946 before OPA controls were removed.

He declared that packing houses are receiving 130 per cent more for finished meat carcasses, while retailers are getting 91 per cent more.

The labor spokesman urged the committee to look further into the problem, to determine "where the price spread, which is apparently squeezing both farmers and retailers as well as consumers, is going."

FUCHS-MCGOWAN VOWS EXCHANGED

At a nuptial high mass in St. Mary's church at 10 o'clock on Saturday morning, October 4, Miss Virginia Mae Fuchs of Washington, D. C., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack H. Fuchs of Hastings, Neb., and Joseph G. McGowan of Washington, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. McGowan of 513 Lyndal street, were united in marriage. The single ring ceremony was used with Rev. Francis P. King officiating. White mums, ferns and candles banked the high white marble altar. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of candlelight satin, the fitted bodice closed down the back with tiny satin-covered buttons. Seed pearls edged the sweetheart neckline and trimmed the scalloped neckline. The long sleeves were pointed at the wrist and the full skirt flowed into a three-yard train. Her fingertip veil fell from a tiara encrusted with seed pearls and crystal and she carried a mother-of-pearl prayer book with a marker of gardenias, stephanotis and streamers. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls.

As her maid of honor, the groom's sister, Miss Margaret McGowan, wore a gown of fuchsia tulle with three-quarter sleeves and a long peplum and carried a bouquet of white baby mums. Patrick J. Fox of Lake Charles, La., served the groom as best man and Emmett Dagon as usher.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served to 35 guests, including the bridal party and members of the families at the home of the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Emmett Dagon, and Mr. Dagon, 101 West Wallace avenue, where, during the afternoon, a reception was held.

Mr. and Mrs. McGowan left Saturday for a honeymoon to Canada and upon their return will take up residence in their newly furnished apartment at 2917 LeBaum street, S. E., Washington, D. C.

Washington Calling

Atmosphere In France Turbulent

PARIS, France, Oct. 8.—Here in the capital of western Europe the currents of opinion move in mysterious and contradictory ways. The winds that blow so hard from Moscow keep the atmosphere in a state of turbulence.

The feeling is growing, however, that the only hope for France is to manage somehow to avoid becoming more deeply involved in the quarrel between the U. S. A. and the U. S. S. R. This is true particularly of men of moderation who are neither of the extreme left nor extreme right. They foresee the fatal consequences for the world if everyone everywhere become embroiled.

This colors the French attitude toward the fate of the Marshall plan. While it is widely recognized as essential to recovery, or for that matter to the very existence of western Europe, there is nevertheless a certain fatalism in the approach to the much-discussed, much-controverted plan.

Doubts Are Obvious
From the American point of view the doubts about the plan are already obvious. They will be expressed with noise and vehemence in the debate to close this winter, ranging from old-fashioned isolationism to genuine distrust of the practicability of the project.

Congressmen returning to America have taken back some of their doubts. This is true not merely of junketeers who brought their prejudices. It applies also to such conscientious students as Representative Christian Herter, of Boston, who sought in a month of intensive work in a half dozen capitals to learn all of the truth he could.

Doubts exist about the figures presented by the 16 nations covering their needs and capacities from 1948 through 1951. They would seem to be rather generously inflated. The experts of each country jealousy eyed their colleagues.

Good Taste

By FRANCES MARKEE

WEDDING OF DIVORCEE

"Please answer the following questions for me: (1) What type of wedding should a divorcee have? (2) What should she wear? (3) What colors are best? (4) What should her trousseau contain? (5) Is it permissible to announce the wedding in the newspaper with the bride's picture? (6) Does she receive gifts? (7) Are parties given for her?"

Answer: It is in better taste for her to marry quietly having, at the most, only relatives and very close friends.

(2) Either a street-length dress or a long, pastel afternoon dress with a harmonizing hat.

(3) Any color but white which is reserved for maiden brides.

(4) Lingerie and lingerie the same as a maiden bride. The trousseau is the items which every bride takes with her to her new home.

It consists of personal clothing—such as lingerie of sufficient quantity to last, usually, about a year; dresses, suits, hats, shoes, stockings, all things that make up her wardrobe. The number of each depends upon her financial circumstances, as well as the kind of social life she will lead. Household linens are also a part of her "trousseau or bundle". These comprise bed sheets, pillow cases, blankets, quilts, table linens, tea towels, table doilies, bureau scarfs, every such nice necessary to the decoration of her new home.

The linen is usually marked with the bride's initials. Those bought after the wedding are marked with the initial of her husband's surname.

(5) It is, indeed, permissible but, of course, not necessary.

(6) Those invited to the wedding usually give presents, just as they do at a first wedding.

(7) If her family or friends wish to give parties for her, they may do so.

The Lie Detector

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CHILD LACKING AFFECTION OFTEN 'BLACK SHEEP'

Often the child who gives his parents more trouble than his brothers or sisters gets worse and worse. Because he has so often been naughty he, naturally, gets scolded and punished more than they do and praised correspondingly less. Inevitably he supposes he is loved less than they are and this supposition causes him to take it out on them or misbehave in some other way, resulting in more scolding and punishing and in turn more jealousy, and so on.

If you were the mother writing the following letter you would be worried as much, no doubt, as she is. And if you were the lad she writes about, you probably would be as bad as he is or worse.

Has Five Children
"We have five children. Our three oldest are girls. The fourth child is a boy 13 years old—our problem."

"My husband is an invalid. Two years ago I had a very serious operation so I can't punish this boy as he fights back. He abuses his brother eight years old, who is so mean at home I cannot understand. His teachers all speak very highly of him and he is an A student. I've tried to punish him by giving all the other children an allowance but he has refused to take it. He has been attending Sunday school and church. We let him play on the junior baseball team."

"Another thing, he won't help us at all. When I ask him to do something for me he grumbles. I've tried to talk kindly to him but he tells me to shut my mouth. We are all ashamed of him. He is kind, too. He spends more on gifts for me than my other children do and he was much concerned about me when I was in the hospital."

In part I replied somewhat like this. Since you say you are "All ashamed of him," he feels the rest of the family have ganged up on him. It is significant that he is so fine at school. If you could capitalize on his good school achievement and his special considerations for you, I believe you could make considerable progress. You are surely on the wrong track when by punishing him as by denying him an allowance, his loss means a gain to the other children.

Protect The Weaker
You must, of course, protect that younger, weaker brother. Yet in doing so you probably often play up his sweetness in contrast to his brother's sourness. When you ask this older boy to do some thing for you, make the request

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan

Princess Elizabeth has agreed to "obey" her future husband. . . . That with the long skirt completes the return of the old-fashioned girl.

In a civil ceremony here recently the bride was asked "Do you promise to love, honor and obey?" She says "Are you reading from the marriage law or the Taft-Hartley law?"

The judge says "It's in the marriage contract" and she says "It must have been drawn by a company lawyer."

As I say, it was a civil ceremony. . . . In fact, friends of the contracting parties said they never had seen them so civil.

But it was a wedding which united two old names. . . . We won't go into that.

Some people feel about baseball. . . . "Next time."

Hints On Etiquette

A widow continues to wear her wedding ring as long as she lives unless she becomes engaged to marry a second time. In that case, following the announcement of the engagement she ceases to wear her first wedding ring.

Looking At Life

By Erich Brandeis

Yesterday I told you about the mail I get when I write about piffle.

But every once in a while someone does seem to be concerned about the more important happenings in this world.

For instance, here is a letter from Massachusetts:

"I am an old Quaker lady and I am sending you a few items on matters about which something ought to be done."

"How can we get order in Europe when we have strikes and strikes in our own country?"

"Why can't we put Lewis in jail instead of letting him get by with all the strikes?"

"We talk about the high cost of living and yet there is waste of money all around us."

"What right has our president with a Sacred Cow? I don't think Stalin has one, although I have no love for Stalin."

"Why do they pay the people in Washington so much money that they live in luxury?"

"Why do they allow intoxicating liquor to be made and then complain about divorces, murders and automobile accidents?"

"How about those awful pictures in the magazines? I often wonder whether juvenile delinquency is not partly due to those disgusting pictures?"

"Why do they allow black markets, when they know very well where they are?"

"I did not like your column about swiping things from different places. You set a bad example for young people who will think that is smart because you do it."

And talking about "juvenile delinquency," my correspondent apparently had a bad experience.

She writes: "I never believed in just one or two people living in a home alone when there is such a housing shortage."

"So I took in a young man, and in a little while his brother was there, and then his wife came."

"Pretty soon they borrowed my car and would drive to New York and then my car was a wreck, and the gas bills and repair bills kept coming in, and I had to go to the bank and borrow money to meet them."

"I should have known better in the first place, because my grandfather died a poor man helping others, but I felt guilty with so much room and all that fresh air, so I wanted to share it."

"But I have learned my lesson."

The lady enclosed a three-cent stamp for a reply.

I suppose she wants me to answer all her questions.

If I could I would be a politician or a U. N. delegate.

In the meantime all I can tell her is that if human beings were as perfect as she wants them to be, there wouldn't be any need for governments and United Nations and for policemen and for armies and navies and jails and electric chairs.

So I shall just return her three-cent stamp and admit that this is a pretty awful world.

I wonder whether the next one will be any better.

May Cut Marshall Plan From One-Third to Half Election Year to Bring Short Congress Session Capital Gives Russian Brushoff

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Best guess in Congress now is that, when all the argument is over, the Marshall plan for European rehabilitation will be cut about one-third. Some members think it may be cut in half. But veterans on foreign affairs say a one-third reduction is a better bet.

Another thing regarded as certain is that Congress will provide for United States supervision of the way the aid furnished is spent.

Both Republican and Democratic leaders say there is no prospect that money will be laded out to European countries to be spent as they desire.

Expectation is that the United States will be called upon to finance nearly all of the 22 billion dollar program. One administration leader estimated that Latin American countries would not put up one billion dollars. And indications are that Canada will not contribute a large sum.

A one-third reduction in the program would bring it down to about 15 billions. The feeling is that Congress under no circumstances is likely to approve more than that sum for European aid over a four-year period.

LOOK FOR A FAST, active session of Congress when the House and Senate reconvene Jan. 6. Despite the manifold problems facing them, neither the Republicans nor Democrats will be in a mood for a lengthy session. The reason? A presidential election year.

The national convention will be held in June and July. Congress will undoubtedly recess in the meantime. As a result, if anything is to be accomplished, the work must be done largely by May.

Committees will be able to get to work without delay at the next session. In fact, the more important ones, such as ways and means, appropriations, and possibly foreign affairs, will get under way in November or December in advance of the opening date.

SENATOR OWEN BREWSTER (R), Massachusetts, got the chairmanship of the important Congressional Aviation Board because he and his Senate war investigating committee got into hot water with the Howard Hughes hearing.

GOP leadership, including some who never rated Brewster very high, agreed that something had to be done to offset the adverse publicity the Maine senator got for himself and the party when his attack on Hughes backfired. So Brewster went to the head of the Aviation Board, which by its power to recommend America's future air policy becomes one of the most significant groups in the aviation field. Brewster hopes to redeem himself and his party as chairman of the congressional group.

At a dinner Brewster hosted for President Truman's civilian air policy commission, however, he was reported to have ribbed some of his guests for their lack of detailed aviation knowledge.

The aviation industry is afraid that conflict between the GOP-controlled Congress and the administration-appointed commission may retard vitally needed progress.

SOCIAL COLD-SHOULDER—Washington diplomatic society is turning an ice-cold shoulder to the Russian representatives in the nation's capital.

During the war, the palatial Soviet embassy was one of the most popular spots in the Washington social whirl. However, the deterioration in United States-Soviet relations now is reflected in the attitude of the capital socialites.

Russian embassy parties, infrequent now, are sparsely attended and are unmarked by the geniality and hands-across-the-sea spirit which was so evident when the United States and U. S. S. R. were fighting allies.

By the same token, the Russians are missing from guest lists at most affairs given by members of the diplomatic set.

Claim S. Africa Boy Can Discern Gems In Ground

LONDON, Oct. 8.—(INS)—Johannesburg dispatches today told of a 16-year-old boy with "X-ray eyes" which can discern the existence of gold or diamonds underground.

The London Daily Express said this strange ability so impressed experts that Pieter Van Jaarsveld has engaged a South African gold mining syndicate to search out minerals.

Pieter claims that when he passes over buried gold a black ridge appears before his eyes. Diamonds, he said, gives off a heat haze, visible to no other human, while moonbeams indicate the presence of water underground.

According to the Express, mining engineers tested the boy's claims. They flew him over the orange free state to pick out known gold reefs which were not visible from the air. They affirmed that he plotted them accurately.

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUDDLES

of the Washington bureaucrats would have us believe. Which means that Secretary Marshall is more or less dependent upon what his department tells him.

For example, news came out of Berlin, a short time ago that "the United States military government is under pressure from Washington not to overemphasize the German bungling of the food and agricultural program." Those are the exact words of the report, which goes on to say: "The purpose of this attitude is said to be the fear on the part of the United States and British Food Board in Washington that Congress will not authorize the requested appropriations for more German food imports, already reaching record heights."

Something of the same situation existed last winter, with contradictory information coming out of Europe from various sources, regarding her food reserves. We Americans responded to them. We are expected to respond again. But this time it might be wiser to look farther into the subject before loading more ships with American food exports, which will have the immediate effect of boosting still higher our own cost of living, which certainly is high enough now.

We do not want to be selfish about it, nor to hard boiled; but in view of some of the reports being made by returning Americans we are entitled at least to know what the European needs for food really are. We are told by first-hand observers that in most of the Low Countries, namely, Denmark, Holland and parts of Belgium, there is plenty of food available in shops and restaurants. From other wholly reliable sources we learn that virtually over all of Europe, and especially in France and Germany, the farmers are notoriously hoarding food supplies and refusing to make known to their respective authorities the food resources they have in storage, often hidden away.

Need Further Information It is in face of this situation that most informed Americans feel that both the public in general and Secretary Marshall in particular need to have information about the European food crisis before we make any plans to alleviate a condition which is much clouded by doubt. For while there may be hungry Europeans during the coming winter, would they need to be so hungry if their own national food resources were completely disclosed and fairly distributed? This is a question that the United States Congress is likely to ask if and when it meets in special session sometime in October or November.

However, we probably will send food, if for no other reason than that, according to such reports as are available, Russia has harvested a grain crop which will permit her to export upward of eighty million bushels. She would delight in an opportunity to demonstrate to the nations of western Europe that she could send them food when the United States had failed.

Why not give Russia this opportunity. If these poor and improvident nations want to sell their independence for a mess of pottage, let them do it.

wanting to make sure that no one claimed the lion's share.

Has Sound Of Pious Hope Natural suspicions and rivalries kept down the community of interest. A community of purpose is expressed throughout the plan. But too often it has the sound of pious hope rather than practical intention. This is merely to suggest some of the flaws congress is certain to dwell on.

From the European point of view, the plan has quite a different look. Of course, it is flawed. It is a compromise. Any one of the planners will tell you that. And now, he will ask, could you expect complete cooperation and community of purpose in view of the ancient roots of European nationalism? That cannot come overnight, even though the need for it is so desperate.

Fear It Will Be Pared The doubts that Europe has are also of another kind. The debate in the United States as Europe is slowly coming to understand, promises to be bitter and protracted. The fear here is that in the course of that debate such large chunks of the original plan will be chipped away as to alter its nature and objective.

This can happen. If it is pared down too far, then it becomes scarcely more than a relief measure. The participating nations probably would accept it as a relief measure, but with the despairing realization that as such it would solve nothing. Another source of doubt concerns the restrictions that congress may or may not put on the way the plan is to operate. For example, the plan envisages the purchase of raw materials in Argentina, Brazil and Canada. If congress were to restrict such purchases, with American dollars, the handicap would be considerable.

Trade Consideration The plan contemplates a considerable trade between western Europe and eastern Europe. The hope is that the coal of Poland, for example, can be exchanged for the manufactured products of the west and even though Poland is a so-called satellite of Russia and as such was unable to participate in the plan.

Any attempt to prohibit such trade, as a consequence of the widening split between the two great powers, would seriously impair the operation of the plan. The fact is that raw materials from the east are essential to any lasting European recovery.

In addition, such a prohibition would be regarded as an encroachment on sovereignty. It would be a propaganda weapon that Russia would seize on at once. The parallel with the arbitrary action of the Soviet Union in forbidding the satellites to participate in the Marshall plan would be painfully obvious.

Keep Europe In Turmoil

To those who must chaperone the Marshall plan through congress it will be a temptation to use the tactic of belaboring Russia. This can be counted on to gain conservative votes.

But such tactics serve to keep Europe in turmoil and thereby diminish the hope of any permanent recovery. Even the most conservative newspapers here reacted against Secretary Marshall's speech at the opening of the United Nations proposing to by-pass the Russian veto. The speech was regarded as merely another stratagem in the cold war between the two giants.

An almost despairing fear of another shooting war comes to the surface when one talks with the average Frenchman. He fears it, he dreads it. If in coming into being, the Marshall plan takes on the appearance of another grand move in the struggle for supremacy, the chances of final success will be small. The ordinary man, who has endured so much, wants to believe that it represents the hope of a better world.

as if you were making it of an adult and treat his response to it in like manner. Be sure this younger lad is not allowed to provoke his older brother to wrath. Don't allow yourself to scold and ever to compare this older child's faults and shortcomings with the virtues of the other children. Perhaps you could induce the older girls to try to help build up self-regard in this lad and take a personal interest in his aspirations. At best, do not look for quick improvements. Three Sheep Shearers Accused In Murder

WALSBERG, Colo., Oct. 8.—(INS)—Three Fort Worth, Tex., sheep shearers faced charges of first degree murder today before District Judge John L. East in Walsburg.

The charges were filed last July by Deputy District Attorney Angelo F. Mosco against Fernando Reyna, 43; his son, Florencio Reyna, 20; and Bacilio Florez, 45, for the alleged murder of Bill Quintana, 28, of Walsburg on June 9.

The three were members of a sheep shearing crew working on ranches near Walsburg.

Three other Colorado men also were knifed in the fight outside the Walsburg city limits reportedly after a drinking party.

Quintana, a World War II veteran, was stabbed in the heart.

Licensing Helps To Restore Stolen Bicycle To Owner

Information taken by the police when bicycles are licensed led to the name of the owner of a bicycle found near Neshannock creek pool in South Mercer street last night. It belongs to James Minner, 435 West Grant street, and was stolen Tuesday.

When bicycles are licensed a record is kept at police headquarters of the license and serial numbers.

The license tag had been removed from the Minner bicycle but the serial number had not been filed off, hence police looked through their files and established the ownership.

Frequent theft of bicycles is one reason why the police department advocated licensing of bicycles. Before they were licensed, bicycles which were recovered, had to be "parked" at headquarters until an owner went there to make a report of the theft.

Nowadays as soon as one is stolen, it is traced either through the license tag (if it is not removed) and the serial number.

PUBLISHER LASHES "PENALTY" TAXES

SUNBURY, Pa., Oct. 8.—(INS)—

Walter D. Fuller, Philadelphia publisher, today hoped for relief from what he labeled "penalty taxation."

In a speech to businessmen of Columbia, Montour, Union, Snyder and Northumberland counties at Sunbury last night, Fuller expressed hope that special legislative committees surveying Pennsylvania's tax structure would recommend that the general assembly restore the exemption of manufacturing corporation from the state capital stock and franchise tax.

"I sincerely believe that such time result in increase in manufacturing in our state and would provide our state government with much higher revenue than they could ever secure from penalty taxation of the 'goose that lays the gold eggs,'" he declared.

Such Popularity is Embarrassing

The pack is in full cry—and the cry is: "We want Gas for home heating!" Such popularity is very flattering, but unfortunately very embarrassing. You see, the unprecedented demand for Gas still exceeds the supply. We are doing everything possible to alleviate this shortage... by building more supply lines, increasing our storage facilities, etc. . . . but for the present . . . it is vitally necessary that we maintain our restrictions and limit gas heating installations.

Rowlands Talks

About Hobbies

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 7.—Edwin Rowlands, speaking on hobbies, presented the first lecture of the season in Wallace Memorial chapel at Westminster college Monday evening.

This was Mr. Rowlands' second appearance on the campus, having been here in 1940. He is one of the foremost autograph collectors in the country and his lecture consisted of stories about his experiences in gathering his collection. The speaker appeared in both sections of the daily chapel services at which time he told several stories that cited the importance of having a hobby. Mr. Rowlands also told about some of the strange hobbies he has run across in his travels and he ended his talk with a plea to those members of the student body who are "hobbyless" to develop some worth while hobby.

Hire The Handicapped

Here is an excellent example of the role impaired workers can play in our community. The photo shows four workers at the S. Beaver street workshop for the blind making rubber doormats from old automobile tires.

The workshop is under the supervision of the Pennsylvania Association for the Blind and gives these handicapped persons a useful duty to perform.

Shown in the picture are, left to right: James Leishman, who lost his sight within the past two years; Louis Long, blind since birth; Joe Jarvis, who lost his sight eight years ago due to World War I injuries; and Paul Earl, his eyesight a casualty of the first World war.

Hire the handicapped—it's good business.

New Wilmington Garbage Collection Plan Is Changed

Cost To Be Paid Out Of Tax
Funds Beginning November 1

(Special To The News)
 NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 8.—Cost of garbage and ash collection will be paid from tax funds starting Nov. 1 as a result of action taken by borough council Monday night.

Several systems have been followed in the past and none has been satisfactory. Prior to last year, the householder paid a monthly fee. Last year the bills for the service were collected in advance. There was some difficulty in getting 100 per cent of the fees and a number of families desired to discontinue the service before the end of the year.

The discussion developed the fact installation of the new system will bring problems. The home owner will be taxed and it may be difficult under present laws for the owner to pass the cost to the renter.

Those favoring the plan argued that the new plan is the one followed in a majority of communities and that a fair trial will bring favorable reaction.

The solons also decided to go ahead with plans to improve Beechwood road before cold weather sets in. A contract will be let in the near future.

The zoning commission reported that it had approved plans submitted by Joseph Francis, local realtor, for an allotment near the present high school athletic field.

AT CONVENTION

William Hartwell, William Reed and J. I. Reaney will represent the Kiwanis club at the Kiwanis convention at Pittsburgh Thursday, Friday and Saturday. They were named at Monday night's meeting of the club at the Methodist church. Lyman Ringbloom was accepted as a new member.

SEEK TO BREAK COUNTY "LIMIT" ON LAW PRACTICE

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—INS—The Philadelphia Bar Association took steps today to break down bars preventing lawyers from practicing in any but their home counties.

In an effort to eliminate what has been termed attorneys' "closed shops," the association adopted a resolution urging the lawyers be permitted to engage in state-wide practice providing they have been admitted to practice before the Superior Court.

Romeo And Juliet Heard In English

Metropolitan Concert Guild Sponsors New York Civic Opera Presentation

Preceding the regular "winter entertainment season," "Romeo and Juliet" was presented in the Cathedral Tuesday afternoon and night, Oct. 7, under the sponsorship of the Metropolitan Concert Guild. The presentation was in English, with the original New York Civic Opera company as the artists.

For those who shun grand opera because it is usually in a foreign language, Tuesday night's presentation offered something they could understand. For those who like opera for the music, regardless of the language, the evening was well spent.

"Boy Meets Girl"

Like most operas, the plot is a simple one. It is the medieval "boy meets girl" romance by Shakespeare by way of Gounod, with the English book by Julius Barbier and Michael Carré.

Romeo, a "Montague," meets up with Juliet, a "Capulet." Both are young, both are enamored of each other, but the families are having none of it. The Montagues and the Capulets have been "a feudin' and a fussin'" and the Capulet parental foot comes down heavily on the romance.

The two are married in Friar Laurence's cell and later Romeo and his chum, Mercutio, meet up in a sword duel with Gregorio, who is on the Capulet team, and just to even things up, Romeo pinks Gregorio in the pericardium.

Banish Romeo

Romeo is banished by the Prince of Verona, and Juliet is in despair, and with the advice of Friar Laurence takes a heavy dose of sleeping powder. Apparently the stuff is 100-proof and Juliet goes into a coma. Thinking her dead, her family lay her out on a funeral bier and Romeo comes back, thinking her dead also. In his grief he takes poison, Juliet awakes from her forced sleep and finding Romeo has taken the poison, she plunges a poniard into her heart. The curtain goes down with the two lying dead.

The parts of Romeo and Juliet were taken by different persons in the two performances. In the afternoon Hosa Fernandez did Romeo and in the evening Byron Steele. In the afternoon Frances Cassard did Juliet and in the evening Carol Lenhardt.

All four of the young singers were adequate, but Steele and Lenhardt seemed a little better to us. Perhaps the noise of 2,200 school youngsters in the afternoon did not make for perfection.

Steele has an unusually high lyric tenor with something of the Morton Downey quality. His acting was effective, especially in the balcony scene and the death chamber scene.

Miss Lenhardt is blonde and petite and was a good Juliet. Her waltz song early in the play seemed to us to be her best. Others who stood out were Charles Worley as Mercutio, Robert Falk as Friar Laurence, David Halecombe as Gregorio.

Frank Foti conducted the orchestra capably and the choral work in several scenes was unusually good. The one which seemed to us the tops was the street chorus in scene 2, act 3.

About 1,000 attended in the evening and about 2,200 youngsters in the afternoon. The opera was another tangible only English that operas can be translated into the English without losing either story interest or tonal beauty.

BOARDED BOOKS

Wooden boards were first used as book covers, being abandoned in favor of paper in the 16th century. The wooden covers were one-fourth of an inch thick.

If our atmosphere were pure oxygen, fish life might get along better, but vegetable and animal life would not survive.

Boy Scouts Need Community Chest Funds To Carry On Important Work

These Boy Scouts of county troops are shown at the Lawrence county summer camp learning to tie knots in the demonstration area. The camping season is one of the highlights of the year for the youths.

One of the 12 agencies sustained by the annual solicitation of funds in the Community Chest drive is the Boy Scout movement, a vitally important organization for the molding of character and building of strong bodies in our youths.

The purpose of Scouting is to promote the ability of boys to do things for themselves and others, to train them in Scouting and to teach them patriotism, courage, self-reliance, and kindred virtues by placing emphasis on the Scout Oath and law for character development, citizenship training and physical fitness.

The Cub Pack takes in boys 9, 10, and 11 years of age. This group is made up of a number of neighborhood Dens, each with a Den mother and a Den Chief (a Scout) who lends leadership and guidance. The Scout Troop enrolls boys at 12 years of age and older. From 8 to 32 boys comprise a troop, with a Scoutmaster, one or more assistants and three or more men on the troop committee. The Scouts are encouraged to advance through various ranks of achievements such as Second class, First class, Star, Life and Eagle.

The Senior Unit has boys 15 and over enrolled and embraces the Explorer Post, Sea Scouts and the Aviation squadron.

On Dec. 31, 1946 there were 41 troops in the county, with 821 boys enrolled, three cub packs of 86 boys and two senior units with 35 Senior Scouts.

These boys have assisted with such worthy endeavors as the collections of food, clothing and waste paper, distributed Government posters, helped raise Deshon hospital funds, worked as messengers at the Sunday School Convention.

helped supervise the Orange Crate Derby and the Armistice Day parade and maintained a first aid station at the Veterans picnic.

Let's help the Scouts to grow by giving to the Community Chest. Everybody benefits—everybody gives.

Bride Writes From Buenos Aires, S. A.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Barrett On Honey-moon, To Dine With Perons In Argentina

From Mrs. C. A. Barrett, the former Mary Hagan, who is honeymooning in South America, and is at present in Buenos Aires, an interesting letter telling of her itinerary has been received by her mother, Mrs. Ann B. Hagan, of 516 West North street.

Taking off from Newark, N. J., airport, the couple left by plane for Miami where they viewed the hurricane damage. There they boarded a large clipper ship bound for South America with a short stopover at Balboa, Panama Canal Zone.

On a bus in Lima, Peru, she relates, we talked with a man from Ellwood City who is married to a former New Castle girl, as one of those coincidences which travelers often encounter.

In Buenos Aires, Mr. and Mrs. Barrett have been invited to a dinner to be given by President and Mrs. Peron.

On their return to the United States they plan to make their home in Pittsburgh.

Beer Drinking 'Cracker' Sought

Safecracker Apparently Stops 'Work' Long Enough To Drink Beer

This city has a beer-drinking safecracker.

At least, this is the belief of police who investigated an attempt to crack a safe at the East Side cafe some time last night.

The combination of the safe had been knocked off.

Frank Geamarino and Guy Matricardi, proprietors of the cafe, discovered the place had been entered when they arrived at 6:40 a. m. today.

They found an empty beer bottle alongside the safe, which led to the suspicion that he took time out from his illicit task to consume the beverage.

Police hope to find the yegg.

Today Your Pharmacist Drops A Few Facts About...

Diphtheria Antitoxin

On the night of Christmas, 1891, the first child, desperately ill with Diphtheria was treated with Antitoxin discovered by Emil Behring, a Berlin army doctor. The result was almost miraculous. After weeks of patient toil, with many discouragements, Behring had given a real Christmas gift to the children of the world—the means to over-

Lions Hear Talk On Need For Aid To Handicapped

Dr. G.S. Bennett Calls Attention Of Members For Need To Aid Physically Handicapped

Need for the employment of the physically handicapped which is being called to the attention of the public this week, was stressed by Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church, in a talk before members of the Lions club at their noon luncheon meeting in The Castleton Tuesday noon.

National Employment of the Physically Handicapped Week, he stated, which is being observed this week, was authorized by a special act of Congress, in order to acquaint the people of the United States to the great number of people who are suffering from handicaps which prevent them from following normal employment, yet which does not prevent them from doing many useful jobs, to which they can be adapted.

Many Are Veterans
The objectives, he stated, are to promote interest both among employers and those who can qualify for jobs; to find jobs for a half-million of handicapped persons;
and to safeguard the jobs of the handicapped ones.

According to the U. S. Veterans Administration, there are around veterans among the half million 130,000 physically handicapped of employable persons. Every year adds to the number through accidents.

The aim of national authorities is to have every employer list jobs with the Pennsylvania Employment Service, and to have handicapped workers also make experience has proven that these people make excellent workers when they are adapted to jobs for which they are fitted.

There were three guests at the meeting. Rev. James A. Gaiser, new pastor of the First Methodist church; Lawrence D. Krebs, of this city, and John F. Hoime, of Pittsburgh.

President S. Glenn McCracken named Harvey B. Bush, Dr. L. W.
Hamilton, A. Dewey Shifflet, Dick Davis, and Charles Lumley as members of the committee to plan for the annual halloween party of the club.

Robert Houk, chairman of the athletic committee announced that arrangements have been made to form a bowling league, which will begin each Friday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock. Henry Broad, Arthur Meek, Dr. Thomas Fletcher, and George Wagner were named team captains.

Noted Singer Visits Home Here

—New Castle News Photo

Bob Lamm, the voice on the currently popular record "Near You" written by Francis Craig, was caught by The News camera as he stopped in New Castle yesterday to visit with his parents. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis L. Lamm of 319 Edison avenue.

Bob, with his wife, Florence, are enroute to Baltimore, Maryland, where he will open at the Hippodrome on Thursday night. The New Castle boy, when asked to what he attributed the success of the song he sang to second place on the "Hit Parade" he replied in due modesty that it was Francis Craig's piano playing that made it popular. His latest records are being featured by local stores at their record counters at the present time.

Playing and singing professionally since 1935, the localite has been totally blind since birth, but has not let his handicap interfere with his success. Since his popularity has increased, he has been signing autographs in both Braille and pencil. Following his engagement in Baltimore, Bob Lamm with Mr. Craig will appear in Hartford, Conn., and Chicago.

IF STOMACH BALKS DUE TO GAS AND BLOAT

Help Get Food Digested to Relieve Yourself of This Nervous Distress

Do you feel all puffed-up and miserable after every meal, taste sour, bitter food?
If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in helping your stomach do the job—it should be doing—in the digestion of its food.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance.

This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-poisonous, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with overdoses of soda and other alkalis to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and

Public To View Chest Agencies

"Open House" October 15
To Give Every Citizen
Chance To Watch
Work Done

When the various Community Chest agencies open their doors to the public on Wednesday, October 15, they will give every citizen the opportunity to see for himself the work they are doing for the community.

None of the agencies are private agencies and visitors are welcome at any time. Open house could be a year around event. But unfortunately few people bother to visit the agencies. It is hoped that a special invitation for Wednesday, the 15th, will induce more people to visit the various institutions.

Hospitals Not Included

The only agencies which cannot join in the open house program are the two hospitals. Both are seriously overcrowded and find it impossible to make the arrangements for a large scale public visitation at this time. It is understood that arrangements will be made for a hospital open house later in the year.

Agencies making plans for the open house include the Salvation Army, City Rescue Mission, Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. colored centers, Margaret Henry Home, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Catholic Welfare Conference. In all cases the active head of the agency will be available to answer questions concerning its work and aims in the community.

In most cases the agencies will be open from 2 to 10 p. m. In the case of the Margaret Henry Home, however, visitors are asked to come before 8 p. m. since the children retire at that time.

Will Make Public Letters Written To Get Convicts Out

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—(INS)—Rep. Hoffman (R) Mich., disclosed today that his committee will make public all the letters of endorsement written on behalf of four Chicago convicts who were released by the U. S. parole board. The chairman of the house executive expenditures committee told a reporter, however, that "in my opinion they don't amount to anything."

The congressman, in explaining why he did not regard the parole endorsements as important, declared:

"They wrote the letters because they knew one of the sisters, or a mother, or father, not especially because they knew one of the convicts."

A subcommittee headed by Hoffman held hearings in Chicago in August after complaints were made that the four convicts were paroled after having served only three years and four months of 10 year sentences in the federal penitentiary for extortion. The four released inmates were Paul Ricca, Philip D'Andrea, Charles Gioe, and Louis Campagna.

Austrian Newspapers See New War Fears

VIENNA, Oct. 8.—(INS)—Austrian newspapers today viewed the announcement of a new international Communist organization as arousing fresh fears of war, with Austria as the battlefield.

The Communist organ "Volkstimme" called the action a clarion call to the people of Europe to unite against "American war mongering and imperialism."

The Independent "Neues Oesterreich" declared in an editorial that the importance of the organization has been exaggerated and pointed out differences between the old Comintern and the new headquarters in Belgrade. The editorial said:

"The central office is not in Moscow but in Belgrade. It is no executive, but only an information bureau for exchanging experiences and coordinating Communist activities."

"The rights of the new organization are extremely limited. The greatest difference lies in the membership of the first world Communist organization. This one has only nine members. The key nations of western and central Europe are missing."

ANOTHER STEP TOWARD THIRD WAR IS SEEN

MADRID, Oct. 8.—(INS)—Political circles in Madrid Tuesday termed formation of a new Communist international organization another step auguring an early third world war.

Some quarters predicted that the dictatorship of Generalissimo Franco is due for a sharp reversal soon in view of international developments.

Announcement of the formation of the Communist organization was considered significant in connection with the direct attacks on the U. S. by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vishinsky in the United Nations.

While there has been no official comment in Spain, the controlled press reflects the national alarm over Russia's determination to bring the whole of Europe under Soviet control.

The monarchist newspaper ABC declared that the revelations of a Soviet spy ring in Canada should have made Russia's purposes clear to American leaders.

Bright Outlook For Production Seen In Nation

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 8.—(INS)—The nation has a bright outlook as far as production is concerned, President Emil Shram of the New York Stock Exchange said Tuesday in Pittsburgh.

He told the three-day convention of the Stock Exchange Board of Governors. "I am very optimistic about the future."

We still have many vacuums to fill, he said, but production should increase considerably and with it should follow price adjustments. Shram declared.

Speaking on the Marshall Plan Shram found it necessary, although, he said, "it will put a heavy burden on our economy."

MENUS SUGGESTED FOR SPECIAL DAYS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—(INS)—President Truman's "main dishes" on the first "meatless" Tuesday and "eggless-poultryless" Thursday under the food conservation program will be:

Tuesday lunch—Cheese souffle.
Tuesday dinner—Salmon steak.
Thursday lunch—Peppers stuffed with rice and mushrooms.
Thursday dinner—Baked ham.

Demand Government Held Eggs Be Sent For Foreign Relief

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—(INS)—Congressional demands were made upon government food officials today to release immediately nearly 100 million pounds of federal-owned frozen and dried eggs for foreign relief.

Sen. Wilson (R) Iowa, declared that the government "should be practical" and send the eggs it has on hand to the hungry peoples overseas.

Sen. Saitonstall (R) Mass., called upon Charles Luckman, chairman of the Citizens' Food committee, to demand that the government-held eggs be released to American consumers "as speedily as possible". Agriculture department officials claim that the eggs cannot be released to the American people now because of price support laws.

Wilson said: "It's time when the government should be practical and realistic. We have this stuff on hand and should send it on if people in foreign countries are starving."

School Children To Hold Contest On Chest Pictures

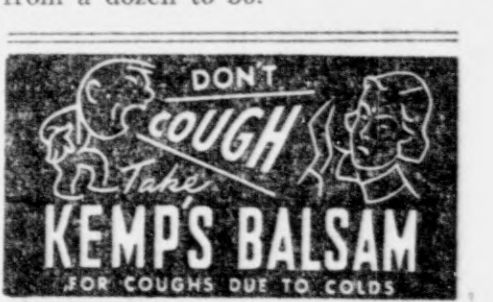

Some 3,800 pictures for coloring have been issued to school children in the greater New Castle area—these pictures representing the 12 benefitting agencies and suited for coloring at school.

There is also a matching sheet where the correct picture after it has been colored, is to be placed opposite the sentence explaining it.

Awards will be presented by a committee of judges to those pupils who do the best color work and have all the pictures matched correctly with the slogans. The completed sheets will be judged on neatness, accuracy and attractive choice of colors.

Increased Goal In Chest Effort

Call On Citizens To Put $102,100 Quota Over Top In Coming Campaign

Citizens will have to dig a little deeper in their pockets this year to put the Community Chest over the top.

The goal of $102,100 this year is approximately 15% above last year's goal of $88,800. Increased costs have affected operating budgets of Chest agencies the same as those of individual families. Increased costs have affected particularly those agencies which have heavy expense for food and those which do not have other sources of revenue. In addition most of the agencies have been faced with increased costs for administrative salaries.

The Community Chest goal was approved after thorough study of all the agency budgets by the Executive Committee of the Chest Board. The amounts allotted to the various agencies were fixed as the least which the agencies can get by with and still continue their effective work in the community.

MICE THREAT SEEN IN HEAVY COVER CROPS

Both annual and perennial cover crops in orchards made a very vigorous growth during the past spring and summer.

This growth has resulted in production of large amount of organic material which will be a decided benefit to future fruit production. However, it also provides an excellent environment for field mice.

During the past few years, field mice have caused serious damage in many orchards that were not protected against their ravages.

One quart of poison bait costing 15 to 20 cents a pound is adequate to protect an acre of fruit trees for a year. Since the loss of a single unprotected tree amounts to at least 100 times the cost of bait, orchard protection through use of poison bait is good orchard insurance.

Detailed information on how to proceed with orchard protection may be obtained at the Agricultural Extension Association, 206 Post Office Building, New Castle.

State Department Is 'Vital Target' For Spy Activity

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—(INS)—The State Department publicly identified itself Tuesday as a "vital target" for spies and subversive agents and disclosed the security tests which will be applied to all employees.

The secretary of state, it was pointed out, has authority to order the immediate discharge of any worker whose loyalty is regarded as questionable.

All State department employees will be "screened" under the following principles:

1. Persons affiliated with or "in sympathetic association" with the Communist, Nazi or Fascist parties, or engaging in or advocating any form of treason, subversion or sedition, or associated with any organization seeking to alter the form of the United States government by unconstitutional means.
2. Anyone engaged in espionage or acting directly or indirectly under instructions of a foreign government.
3. Any person who has knowingly divulged "classified" information without authority and with belief that it will be transmitted to foreign agents.
4. Anyone habitually associating with traitorous or subversive persons.
5. Any persons "who has such basic weakness of character or lack of judgment" as to justify fear he might be led into divulging secret or confidential information.

Toonerville Folks:—

By FONTAINE FOX

THE "INQUIRING REPORTER" FOR THE TOONERVILLE EVENING EXPRESS

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD

International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 8.—(INS)—Joan Fontaine is at long last her own boss in movie making, and for this big event in her life she gives full credit to her sister, Olivia de Havilland.

"Yes, Joan said, 'from now on I can do exactly what I please with my career and it's all due to Olivia.'"

She was referring to Olivia's victory over Warner Brothers in the California courts in a suit which set definite limitations on seven-year contracts between studios and their stars.

You hear lots of talk in Hollywood about these two academy award winners being at sword's point, but you wouldn't know it to hear Joan talk.

She said:

"I don't know how Olivia had the nerve to do it, but she did. I don't think I could have done it."

The decision freed Joan from her contract with fabulous David O. Selznick, just as it completed Olivia's long stint with Warners. It was a big victory from the standpoint of all the stars. For years the studios argued—as Warners did in court—that under a seven-year contract a player had to give them seven years of work. They added to the contract any period during which players were on suspension or absent for any other reason which had nothing to do with their work.

Olivia went to court to prove that seven years meant exactly seven years, and won. It freed a number of stars, including her sister.

It wasn't that Joan had any particular complaint with Selznick, who brought her to fame in "Rebecca," but she wanted the opportunity—and the much bigger pay checks which freedom from contract brought.

Now she's hard at work on her first picture as her own boss, "Letter From an Unknown Woman," at U-I.

M-G-M finally has wound up "Luxury Liner" after a pair of mishaps to its beautiful little singing star, Jane Powell. The first thing happened when Jane stepped on a highly polished floor on the set. She slipped and fell and bumped her head.

It was such a hard bump she was taken to a hospital for a series of X-rays. It turned out there was nothing wrong, and that cost the studio only one day's shooting.

But, while she was away Jane got several bites on the cheek which made them swell up so badly she had to take three days off.

"I think they were spider bites," Jane told me.

This was one case where the cure turned out worse than the ailment.

'Blue Baby' Now 23 And Enjoying Life First Time

CANNONBURG, Pa., Oct. 8.—(INS)—A girl who "wouldn't live to be 6 years old" because she was a "blue baby" 23 years ago, is not only living, she is just beginning to enjoy it.

After 23 years of near invalidism, Sophia Zolidas has just undergone a heart operation and is ready to begin doing all the things she missed through childhood and youth.

Sophia went on living although it was a living devoid of little-girl delights. Games of hop-scotch, skip-the-rope and hide-and-seek were not for Sophia.

She managed to go to school, although it took her an hour to walk the four blocks between her home and the schoolhouse. And she completed the eighth grade despite having to skip a year every three years to rest up.

Later, when her three older sisters began going roller-skating and attending dances, Sophia had to sit home, putting in the hours by sewing, reading or attending a lonely movie. She's never had a date because:

"You have to be able to dance. I couldn't."

Simple household tasks like making a bed filled her with the exhaustion that is typical of the "blue baby" heart condition.

Vandals Sought
By City Police

Police today are investigating vandalism at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Brooks, rear 210 East Lutton street. The house is being painted white and the vandals took blue paint and smeared it on the house. They also removed the cap from a barrel of fuel oil and poured water into the oil. They then took the blue paint and mixed it with the white paint.

Mr. and Mrs. Brooks are employed during the evening and the vandals committed their action while they were away last night. Seven windows were broken at the Hunter's laundry last night, and a gang of boys took furniture from the porch of Samuel Schwartz, 1906 Highland avenue, and scattered it through the yard. They also removed a bathtub which was on the porch and placed it in the yard. The legs were broken off the tub and fittings were damaged.

Police do not look upon actions such as the foregoing as pre-halloween stunts and are determined to apprehend and punish the vandals.

State To Render Guidance In War Dead Ceremonies

New Castle To Be Scene Of Six-County Meeting To Arrange Memorial Plans

HARRISBURG, Oct. 8.—(INS)—The department of military affairs prepared today to guide communities holding ceremonies to receive repatriated bodies of World War II dead.

Adjutant General Frank A. Weber scheduled a series of nine regional meetings beginning Monday to coordinate plans for memorial services.

Veterans groups, directors of veterans' affairs, county commissioners and civic and fraternal organizations have been asked to send representatives to the conferences.

To Arrive October 26

The first of an estimated 18,000 Pennsylvanians to be repatriated will return home aboard the transport Joseph V. Connolly scheduled to dock at New York October 26. Sealed flag-draped caskets bearing their remains will be shipped to next-of-kin accompanied by military escort.

Priority use of Pennsylvania National Guard armories would be granted for lying in state, Weber said, and rifles and rifle squads made available for guards of honor and farewell salutes.

"We have no thought to suggest to any veterans' organization or other interested group what plans they should make in the local communities," Weber said.

Meet In New Castle

"But we feel there is a possibility some of the smaller localities are not properly equipped to fully accord the desired public honors to their war dead and it is that assistance we want to provide."

Western Pennsylvania conferences scheduled were: New Castle, October 20.—Mercer, Lawrence, Beaver, Venango, Butler and Armstrong counties. Warren, October 21.—Erie, Crawford, Warren, Forest, Clarion and McKean counties.

Ebensburg, October 22.—Jefferson, Elk, Indiana, Clearfield and Cambria counties.

Pittsburgh, October 23.—Allegheny county.

Uniontown, October 24.—Washington, Greene, Westmoreland, Fayette, Somerset and Bedford counties.

MARGARET TRUMAN TO SING AT MOSQUE

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 8.—(INS)—Miss Margaret Truman, daughter of the President, will make a long-postponed singing recital in Syria Mosque in Pittsburgh, it was announced today.

Miss Truman originally was scheduled to make her debut in Pittsburgh, May 20, but after arriving, canceled the recital and hurried to the bedside of her seriously ill grandmother, who later died.

She now is practicing in Kansas City.

The greatest community sport in Wyoming is the rodeo.

Takes Issue With Report On Farms

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—(INS)—

An Agriculture Department report which described the "typical American farm" as being infested with flies, mice and rats drew sharp criticism today from members of a Congressional committee.

The document was prepared by former secretary of agriculture, Claude Wickard, and was read to the joint Senate-House Agriculture Committee by Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan.

Rep. Hooven (R) Iowa, Rep. Gross (R) Pa., and Sen. Thyne (R) Minn., immediately challenged the document which also charged that two-thirds of the nation's farm families are ill-housed.

Gross termed the statement as "untruthful" and as consisting of "downright falsehoods."

Gross asserted farmers in his district were "just thrifty."

SOVIET NEWSMEN STONED

LONDON, Oct. 8.—(INS)—The London Daily Herald reported today from Hanover, Germany, that Ukrainian DP's stoned five Soviet newsmen touring their camp.

The dispatch said the DP's declared: "We do not want our photographs taken or anything about us to go to the OGPU (Secret Soviet Political Police)."

The first theater of which we have a record was erected in Athens, Greece, in 420 B. C.

Lyman Ringbloom will act as scoutmaster with Owen Funk and Fred Rowland assisting. Gailey Sharp is chairman of the scout committee which includes the following members: Earl Black, W. A.

Reed, Howard Rodgers, Paul Tate, Fred Seely, Walter Hawk and W. W. Hartwell.

Scoutmaster Ringbloom hopes to register four patrols of eight boys each; and to obtain a troop charter from the national headquarters as soon as possible.

IDLE GERMANY TERMED MENACE

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—(INS)—

An idle Germany was termed a menace to world peace today by Lewis H. Brown, chairman of Johns-Manville Corp.

Just returned from a two-months tour of Germany, Brown said Germany's exclusion from the Marshall plan would be "playing into Russia's hand."

County Gridders Facing Another Heavy Week Of Football Games

Bessemer High, Union Playing Games Thursday

Cementers At Darlington; Zelle Faces Scotties; Other Teams Play Friday

County scholastic football moves into high gear again tomorrow night with Bessemer, and Union active. Friday the remainder of the county elevens will swing into action against their foes.

Bessemer, enjoying the best season of the "B" schools, moves into Darlington for their fray while Union awaits the invasion of Zellenople.

The Ciccone-coached Cementers have tripped George Jr. Republic, Lowellville, O., and Union so far, losing only to Evan City. They have hopes of bettering their prestige by dumping the Darlington.

Union's "Scotties" slapped down in four of their five starts, hope to hit the win column against an in-and-out Zellenople band at the Scotland Lane field tomorrow night. The Butler county team has taken Shenango, lost to Evans City and Hopewell and tied Mercer.

Friday night will see both class AA schools of the county, New Castle and Ellwood, in conference frays. The Hurricane will entertain Farrell while Clairtown shows at Ellwood for a battle.

Cases Seek Sixth
New Castle will be after its sixth straight win and its fourth in the WPIAL. Ellwood has posted one league win (over Farrell) and hopes to step against the downtrodden Bears who have lost four and tied one so far.

Shenango will monopolize the action Friday afternoon when they play host to the terrific Evans City "Big Red"—a game in which the Nahas men will be definite underdogs.

Casablanca Boxer Stops Billy Walker

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—(INS)—Marcel Cerdan, the Casablanca ironman, today was one step closer to a shot at the middleweight championship after knocking Irish Billy Walker of Portland, Ore., in the first round of a ten-round bout in Montreal last night.

The stiff-punching European middleweight champion floored Walker three times before Referee Tommy Sullivan stepped in and awarded the fight to Cerdan.

Razzano Slated For Guard Post Against Michigan

Tony Razzano, New Castle's sophomore guard at Pitt, probably will nail down a starting assignment when the Panthers tangle with the formidable Michigan Wolverines this Saturday in Ann Arbor.

Tony, a compactly-built 180-pounder, impressed Coach Mike Milligan and his aides in the Notre Dame game with his aggressive style of play and may move in to replace "Buck" Johnson, a 200-pound senior who has been a tackle but was pressed into guard service when John Kosi was injured.

Other New Castle lads on the squad, Bobby Lee, Bill McPeak, Sam Haddad and Lindy Lacro, are also due to see action against the Crisler juggernaut.

The Wolverines have flattened Michigan State, 55-0, and Stanford, 49-13, and loom as heavy favorites to hand the Jungle Cats their third straight loss this season.

New Castle Hi Harriers Win From Meadville

Coach Austin Cowmeadow's Cross Country Team Wins Third Meet, Set Course Record

New Castle High's sensational cross country team not only set a new course record at Meadville on Tuesday but won its third straight meet of the 1947 season, its first cross country season in the history of the school. The results were New Castle 15, Meadville 40.

Don Bordon and Dick Sampson ran a dead heat to tie for first place with record breaking time of 7:48 minutes for a course short of two miles. This was the second meet on the new Meadville course.

Very Fine Record
Coach Austin Cowmeadow was more than pleased by the performance of his charges as they swept to their third meet victory undefeated.

Meadville was never in the race very far, finishing a man in sixth place behind five New Castle runners, Bordon, Sampson, Dave Klingensmith, Sid Lockley, Jr., and Jimmy Doone.

Beaver Here Thursday
Other New Castle finishers were as follows: George Capps in seventh place, Dave Johns in tenth place, Altman in 13th place, Ben Haines in 14th place and Ed Hill in 15th place. Meadville had but five finishers in the first 15 men. Shope finished in sixth place.

New Castle harriers will have a meet with the Beaver High team at the Washington High course on Thursday, and will go to Ambridge for a meet next Tuesday.

Beagle Club To Meet On Sunday

Shenango Valley Beagle club will hold a post field trial meeting at its Volant district clubhouse Sunday. A report will be made concerning the recent field trials. On Saturday members will build a roof over the rear porch of the clubhouse.

Jack McCoy Is Standout Place-kicker

Jack (The Real) McCoy, junior lineman on the New Castle Red Hurricane squad is considered one of the most accurate placement kickers in the history of the school.

Shown here booting one in practice with Paul Cuba, Jr., holding, the husky specialist has sent 12 out of 16 attempts spinning through the uprights this season.

Besides his point-after-touchdown act, McCoy also does the kicking-off and has sent many a prodigious boot soaring down the field in the five games played.

Army-Illinois In Top Grid Meeting Saturday

The team that went to the Rose Bowl and the team that wanted to go and was snubbed, will tangle in the collegiate grid headline Saturday in New York. It will be Illinois vs. Army in the five-star special of the day.

The Cadets from the banks of the Hudson probably will never forget that door that was slammed in their faces last New Year's Day. The Malignant Mules, with a native Californian in their backfield—Glenn Davis, wanted badly to show their wares in the Roses tournament but a sudden behind-the-scenes legerdemain produced a Pacific Coast Big Nine pact and the Illini were off to Pasadena.

Army On Spot
Coach Red Blaik and his future lieutenants hold no grouse against the lads from Champaign, but there is a hint of "we'll show 'em" as they prep for their meeting with the Western Conference champions this week.

This will be the first clash between the schools since 1934, when Illinois won at home, 7-0. The series is even-Stephen at two each, Army having copped in 1930, 1930 and in 1933, 6-0. Illinois won their other contest in 1929, 17-7.

In this their first big test, the Cadets will be under the merciless glare of the fans and the rival coaches for the first time this year. Have they the stuff to further their miraculous 30-game win streak against the beefy squad from the midwest? Is Bobby Stuart another Davis? Can Blaik overcome the loss of such linemen as Foldsberg, Poole, Gerometta, Biles and Enos?

Joe Steffy
Army

Team Has Speed
With great respect for Blaik's meticulous coaching methods and the fact that the manpower reserve is not as depleted at West Point as was imagined, some followers of the game firmly believe the Knights can go up to the Notre Dame game unbeaten.

The team has blinding speed, both in the backfield and line, and if the rather frail Mr. Stuart holds up will have a constant scoring threat. Capt. Joe Steffy bulwarks a typical Nile-like forward wall. To date they have taken rugged little Villanova, 13-0 and swept past big but cumbersome Colorado, 47-0.

Illini Show Power
Illinois, off to a rocket start with one conference game in their pocket (over Iowa, 35-12), and a 14-0 victory over Pitt in their opener is again a threat for the Big Nine title.

Coach Ray Eliot lost his sharp-tongued, little Buddy Young, and his siege gun, Julie Rykovich in the backfield, plus such linemen as Alex Agase and Mac Wenskunas, but has 33 lettermen in uniform and another powerful front barrier.

The East's largest turnout is expected for the collision at late Saturday, the most amazing football victory skein of modern times may be snapped or pegged up to No. 31.

Seven Undefeated In Class AA Race

There are seven undefeated Class AA WPIAL teams at the moment. New Castle among them.

The other six are—Brownsville, Rochester, Penn. Wilkensburg, Har-Brack, and New Kensington.

The schedule this week pits the following Class AA teams together: Farrell at New Castle, Friday; Rochester at Beaver Falls, Friday.

McKeesport at Johnstown, Saturday night; Brownsville at Monacahe, Friday.

Erie Academy at New Kensington, Friday, (non-league).

There are bound to be a few drop out of the race for the championship this coming week end. The list keeps getting smaller each week.

COLOR FLOOR TEAM
All those interested in a fast colored independent basketball team, sponsored by the Colored Elks, are asked to meet at the home of George Crunkleton, 412 W. Grant street, Thursday at 8 o'clock. Gordon Marks, manager.

Who Will Win Is Question?

Bell Beat Brothers, But Sabotin Has Won All His Fights Recently

Will Lallo Sabotin outpoint Ike Bell or Ike Bell "keyo" Lallo Sabotin next Monday night in The Arena? This question is perturbing fans who flock to the Palace of Punch to see the fistie whirls. When they meet, it will be the first time they have opposed each other. Both are training hard for the "go" which is expected to prove one of the fastest fought by amateurs here.

Some fans favor Bell's chances. They point out that he has battled at least 100 times and is one of the most experienced amateurs in this section. He gave away a lot of weight to Elkins Brothers and never gave Elkins a chance to land his vaunted right hand knockout. Bell came through with the decision over Brothers in three rounds.

On the other hand Sabotin remains undefeated. He defeated Johnny Seanton and Homer Napier with ease at Flaherty field and among his Akron victims, was Clarence Blair, a victory he achieved at Farrell. As a reward for his conscientious and good fighting the Shenango Valley Boxers association awarded him the honor, "The Boxer of the Year."

Sabotin goes to high school at Warren, O., and after he graduates next spring he intends to turn professional, according to his trainer Jack Thompson.

Winners Return Here

Pat McGinley, welterweight of Pittsburgh, will fight Pete Misto, veteran amateur in Youngstown. If Pat can box and keep out of the path of Misto's right, he may turn back the veteran.

Tommy DeSantis, Youngstown, fought a good fight in beating Charlie Bratton, also of Youngstown, September 29. He will box Ducky Pound of Warren, at 118. Jimmy Carkeo, Youngstown, who scored over Alfred Clark, Youngstown, at 135, will battle Angelo Bakeris of Warren and Billy Underwood, Youngstown, who beat Hemp Adams, Pittsburgh, at 123, will be back against Frankie Sedall, Warren. Frankie Lentine, Youngstown, another winner September 29 takes on Carl Zoba, a tough kid of Warren at 122.

Mike Sebastian, one of Sharon's roughest middleweights, and who has pleased several crowds here, is slated against Pat Hogan of Pittsburgh.

In all there'll be eight bouts.

Godoy Stages Poor Bout With Thompson

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 8.—(INS)—Heavyweight Turkey Thompson, choice of Los Angeles fight fans to dethrone Joe Louis, held a ten-round unanimous decision today over Arturo Godoy of Chile at Olympic auditorium.

Godoy's clinching tactics brought boos from the crowd of 9,000 fans last night and papers and programs were thrown into the ring at the end of the bout. Many left before the final gong.

MacPhail Through As Head Of Yanks

Believe Yankee Head Forced Out By Chandler, Denies Statement On Durocher

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)
NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—(INS)—According to a persistent rumor in baseball circles today, Larry MacPhail was virtually forced out of the presidency of the New York Yankees by A. B. (Happy) Chandler, the man MacPhail sponsored for baseball commissioner.

MacPhail announced his resignation Monday near the finish of the Yankee's conquest of the Brooklyn Dodgers, and it was formally accepted late yesterday. Dan Topping, the millionaire former husband of Sonja Heine, and Del Webb, the wealthy western contractor, were glad to get rid of MacPhail.

Denies Statement
They joined in the shoving started by Chandler when the truculent, red-headed president of the Yankees recently reopened old wounds by charging that President Branch Rickey, of the Brooklyn Dodgers, helped to railroad Leo Durocher out of baseball.

MacPhail denied the next day that he had made any such assertion, but was confronted by newsmen who heard it and a long record denying statements attributed to him.

A few days later he appeared in Commissioner Chandler's offices in Cincinnati, and then remained mum until the final game of the World Series when he jumped before he got the final push, according to report. He jumped by announcing in the Yankee clubhouse just before the finish of the game that he was through as Yankee president.

New Castle High Seeking Seventh Win Over Farrell

"Red Hurricane" Hopes To Keep Rolling Along Undeleted Row In Class AA

New Castle and Farrell will clash at the stadium Friday night, in the eighth game of the series, with New Castle having won six and lost one to the Night Riders since 1934.

This will be New Castle's fourth class AA test of the year. In three previous class AA outings Butler, Sharon and Altoona have bitten the dust.

Farrell's only win was in 1944 by a score of 14 to 7. New Castle has rolled up 153 points and given up 47 points to the Farrells.

Local Record Impressive

So far this season New Castle has rolled up five straight wins, piling up 115 points to 21 for the opposition, while Farrell has won two, lost two and tied one, scoring 32 points to 49 for the opponents. Ellwood City and Vandergrift upset the Tony Paulekas coached Night Riders, with Farrell dropping Greenville and Campbell Memorial and deadlocking with Meadville, 7-7.

But, regardless of what has transpired so far, it will be a tough battle Friday, as any New Castle-Farrell meeting in sport generally is.

In Good Shape
New Castle came out of the gruelling battle with the big bruising Mountain Lions last Saturday in fine shape. There were no serious injuries of any kind.

Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh will be able to field his strongest possible lineup in an effort to keep the victory skein intact. Sammy Keyes on his showing at Altoona may replace the veteran Lou Gilmore at right half. The dusky Keyes ran 17 yards to score at Altoona, besides ripping off several other nice runs.

No other lineup changes are being contemplated at the moment, as the "Red Hurricane" gets ready for another big storm Friday.

New coaches—Bob Voigts at Northwestern and Stu Holcomb at Purdue—still may be a year away, but both have sound elevens.

Browns-Indians Talking Trade

Browns Seek Lou Boudreau, Offer Shortstop, Outfielder, Two Pitchers

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 8.—(INS)—St. Louis Browns officials were non-committal today about a reported deal with the Cleveland Indians involving a total of eight baseball players.

General Manager Bill Devitt of the Browns admitted that he had conferred with Cleveland President Bill Veeck of the Indians during the world series in New York. Devitt said:

"Veeck offered us Lou Boudreau but at present we have nothing pending."

Eight Players Involved

When Veeck was asked if any other players were involved, he replied:

"Yes. All told there were eight—four on each side."

He did not indicate whether the proposed deal had been dropped.

In addition to Boudreau, Cleveland manager and shortstop, others reported mentioned in the proposed deal were:

Pitchers Red Embree and Bryan Stephens and George Metkovich, all of Cleveland, and Shortstop Vernon Stephens, Outfielder Paul Lehner and Pitchers Jack Kramer and Bob Munier, all of St. Louis.

HYPNOTIZED AND ROBBED

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—(INS)—And now its thievery by "hypnotism."

At least, a South Philadelphia woman reported to police that two "fortune-tellers" hypnotized her and then robbed her home of $1,000 worth of valuables.

The victim, Mrs. Helen Mazzio, 27, said two women who came to her door put her "into a trance."

When she recovered, Mrs. Mazzio found her home looted of a watch, diamond ring, set of table silver, a spring coat, two suitcases, and one of her husband's suits.

Fordham, Syracuse, Rutgers, and Colgate are not likely to astound, although they are "upset artists."

Braves In Market For New Players

Boston Braves Eye Russell, Marion And Slaughter For 1948 Team

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—(INS)—Manager Billy Southworth with his $250,000 five-year contract safely tucked away in his pocket indicated today that plenty of trades are in the offing for the improvement of the Braves.

Lou Perini, president of the Braves in making the announcement of the new contract, effective immediately, said the sum "was in excess of $250,000 and the largest contract in the history of baseball."

Southworth's old contract had one year to run.

Southworth who was at the dinner of the Boston Baseball Writers said that he had requested that no bonus clause be attached to the new contract.

The largest previous contract was signed by Babe Ruth when he received $160,000 for two years with the New York Yankees.

Both Perini and Southworth said they were not satisfied to go along with the present trial team. They said that other clubs are improving and the Braves could not afford to stand pat.

Perini said that he was interested in Enos Slaughter, outfielder, and Marty Marion, shortstop, of the St. Louis Cardinals. Reports from St. Louis indicated that both players are not getting along with the front office and their contracts are too high.

The Braves chief indicated that he also was interested in Jim Russell, Pittsburgh outfielder.

RECORD STEEL PRODUCTION

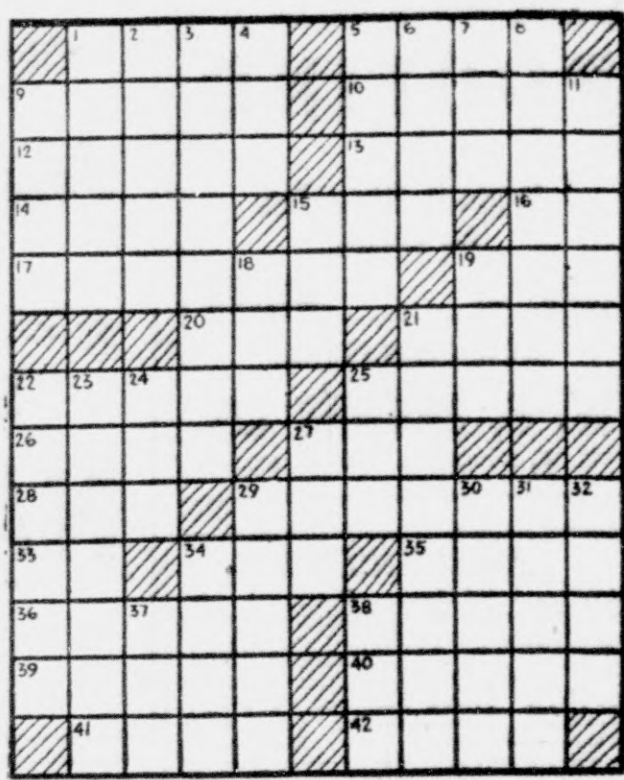

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 8.—(INS)—President C. R. Cox today announced that Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp. has broken all post-war records in steel production for the week ending Oct. 4.

Cox said more than 403,641 tons of steel ingots were produced during the week.

Yale's bulldog may bite off a large chunk of gridiron glory before the season passes. Hoye Odell's blue-shirt squad has everything except reserves.

DiMaggio Played In Recent Series With Plain Nerve

Joe Played With Sore Arm, Faked Throws From Outfield, Fooling Opposition

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—(INS)—Joe DiMaggio, mainstay of the New York Yankees, played the 1947 season and world series with his throwing arm so "dead" that opposing base runners might have run the Yankees right out of the pennant had they known.

The New York Daily Mirror revealed today that DiMaggio "foiled the game's smartest brains all season" by bluffing throws with what was once the mightiest arm in baseball.

The article said that poker face Joe "gave one of the most fantastic exhibitions of faking" and that his occasional long throws "almost floored him."

DiMaggio is suffering from bone chips in the elbow which may require an operation this winter unless the calcification dissolves.

The Yankee clipper had been beset with injuries all year which would have forced a less courageous player to drop out of the lineup. Had Joe yielded to these ailments, the world series flag might be flying over Brooklyn today.

The "Pennsylvania Polka" is the overture they're playing for approaching eastern gridiron spectacles, and, if the pre-season rating conforms, that lilting melody may very well be the victory march for the eastern champions of 1947.

The pro golfers are battling among themselves now, ordering each other around, bickering like fishwives and running this wonderful racket right into the ground.

DiMaggio said early today that he had not had a chance to talk with Rickey relative to his returning as manager of the club now that the suspension imposed by Happy Chandler has been lifted.

Rickey said he had not reached a decision on Durocher's case and added:

"I don't know when anything will be done."

Believe Durocher Will Not Be Back At Dodger's Helm

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—(INS)—Leo Durocher, deposed manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, is scheduled to fly from New York for Los Angeles tonight with his actress wife, Laraine Day, regardless of whether he confers with Flatbush President Branch Rickey in the meantime.

Durocher said early today that he had not had a chance to talk with Rickey relative to his returning as manager of the club now that the suspension imposed by Happy Chandler has been lifted.

Rickey said he had not reached a decision on Durocher's case and added:

"I don't know when anything will be done."

Akron Group Makes Westminster Visit

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 8.—TAG club members from North high school, Akron, journeyed to Westminster college recently to inspect the campus as part of their preparation for choosing a future school.
The club name, TAG, standing for trigonometry, algebra and geometry, is made up of mathematical students from the upper ten per cent of their classes at North high school, all of whom, in this instance, are enrolled in college preparatory classes.
Accompanying the 25 students was Arthur Freeder, chairman of the high school mathematics department and advisor to the group, who had previously arranged the trip as part of a plan to visit many small colleges in the district surrounding Akron. They were entertained at Westminster by Delta Nabla, honorary fraternity.

Wood river is an Alaskan river, tributary to Nushagak bay, and of importance to the United States government in connection with the adjacent spawning grounds for salmon.

GRIZZLY BEAR WOUNDS FATAL TO SHEEPHERDER

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Oct. 8.—(INS)—Wounds suffered in an attack by a grizzly bear were blamed today for the death of a Romanian-born shepherd, who died in a Great Falls hospital without regaining consciousness.

Josif Chincisian, 65, a herder in the Augusta, Mont., area for 24 years, was injured so badly by the huge animal that it left him for dead after raiding the sheep camp at midnight Sept. 26.

Chincisian managed to crawl to within 200 yards of a ranch house. He was found unconscious the next morning and taken to the hospital.

He is survived by two sisters in Romania.

CASIMIR PULASKI DAY

HARRISBURG, Oct. 8.—(INS)—Gov. James H. Duff today proclaimed October 11 as Pulaski

Memorial Day, to honor Count Casimir Pulaski who fought and died in the Revolutionary War.

"History has reserved a special place for Pulaski, famous throughout the world as a champion of liberty and the principle that the people of any nation shall have the right to determine their own form of government," Duff said.

The Polish patriot and soldier was wounded fatally at Savannah, Ga., while serving with the Continental Army.

At the close of the Revolution in America, John Adams estimated that fully a third of all the people in the colonies—1,000,000 out of 3,000,000—were opposed to the measures of the Revolution, and were loyalists.
